tid the blind writer whose death oc-curred lodsy.

Fauny Crosby's name was signed so egularly as author of one hymn after mother that the hymn books makers of quarter of a century ago were forced a give her some 200 different pen unites to make it appear that someone sesifies the famous writer had contrib-ted

"Saved by Grace," Bleased Assurance," "Rescue the Perishnig," and
"Safe in the Arms of Jesus" are typical of Fanny Crosby's most popular religious verses. Of the latter the writer has related an incident showing the remarkable rapidity with which she employed her inspirations and her taients of versification.

Wrote One is 15 Minutes.

W. H. Doane, who wrote the music for many of her verses, had called one marging at Miss Crosby's home in New York.

York.
"I must take a train to Cincinnat!
in 40 minutes, he said, and I have some music for which I want you to write a hymn.
"He sat down at the piano and played his music. "I think I can write it, Mr. Donne," I said.

I said.

'I hurried upstairs and sat down to write. For some time I was entirely oblivious of surroundings. When I came back to my full senses the hymn was writen and was on the paper before me. I learned that I had only taken Is minutes. Triumphantly I carried it down to Mr. Dosne. The music he played then and the words I had hurriedly written are the same as used today in singing Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

'It was my most successful hymn.

"It was my most successful hymn, and I believe it was dictated by the spirit of the Lord, and that it was born for a mission."

But Fanny Crosby did not begin hymn writing until she was over 40 years of age. Fifty years ago she was best known for her popular melodies which were whistled all over the country, such as "Froud Werld Goodby, I'm Going Home," "Hazel Deil," "The Honeysuckie Glen" and "Never Forget the Dear Gnes."

Lost Sight During Fever.

Born in Putnam county, New York state, March 24, 1820, christened Frances Jane Crosby, and married to Alexanger Van Alstyne, a blind music teacher who died many years ago, the blind writer lived to be 95 years old. She retained to the last all her faculties—excepting eyesight. She lost this during a fever in infancy when a hot populate was applied to her eyes, destroying the optic nerve. COURT DISCHARGES JURY
AFTER READING ASSAULT STORY
New York, Feb. II.—A Jury trying a suit for $150,000 damages brought against E. N. Broiung, millionaire owner of the steamship Dacia, by Max Kleist, who married Miss Juliet Breitung, the defendant's daughter, was discharged today in the federal court because of the publication Thursday of stories to the effect that Kleist had been twice assaulted since his wife had ceased to live with him. The court held that publication of these stopies would doubtless tend to influence the jury in Kleist's behalf.
Kleist was quoted as saying that one of the assaults was committed in New York city by gangsters and the other in a New Mexico mine, owned by the defendants. OURT DISCHARGES JURY
